We will process information about you where we have your consent, where we have a legitimate interest to do so, where the processing is necessary for the performance of a contract with you, and/or where we have a legal obligation to process your information. For example we typically rely on:

- Necessity to meet an actual contractual obligation when you create a Life360, Tile or Jiobit account to enable us to provide you with our Products and Services.

- Consent when placing cookies on your device on the web (through our cookie consent manager) or to send you email marketing. Note that when consent is the legal basis for our processing of your personal information, you may withdraw such consent at any time.

- Our legitimate interests to process your information when providing you with customer service support, to serve targeted advertising, for fraud prevention and security purposes.

- To fulfill our contractual obligations.

- Necessary for compliance with a legal obligation to which we are subject.

ii. Data Subject Requests

You have the right to (1) access your personal information, including in a portable format, (2) request erasure of your personal information, and (3) request correction of inaccurate personal information. iii. Data Privacy Framework

Life360 and Tile, Inc. (collectively, the "Life360 Companies") comply with the requirements of the EU-U.S. Data Privacy Framework ("EU-U.S. DPF") and the UK Extension to the EU-U.S. DPF and the Swiss-U.S. Data Privacy Framework ("Swiss-U.S. DPF") (collectively "DPF"), as set forth by the U.S. Department of Commerce, regarding the collection, use, and retention of personal information transferred from the European Economic Area ("EEA") and the United Kingdom ("UK") and Switzerland to the United States. The Life360 Companies have certified to the Department of Commerce that they adhere to the DPF Principles with respect to personal information transferred to them in reliance on the DPF. To the extent that the DPF applies to your information, if there is any conflict between the terms in this Privacy Policy and the DPF Principles, the DPF Principles shall govern. The Life360 Companies are subject to the investigatory powers of the FTC with respect to their DPF compliance. To learn more about the DPF program, and to view the Life360 Companies' certifications, please visit https://www.dataprivacyframework.gov/s/. The Life360 Companies may also protect information through other legally valid methods, including international data transfer agreements.

If you are an EEA or UK or Swiss citizen you may be able to exercise certain choices under the DPF regarding how some of your personal data is used and disclosed, and may access, correct or delete certain personal data by following the instructions in Section V (Your Choices About Your Information) and Section VIII(C)(ii) (Data Subject Requests) in this Privacy Policy.

You may also have the right to opt out of the Life360 Companies' use or disclosure of personal data received or transferred pursuant to the DPF, if the Life360 Companies will (i) use such personal data for a new purpose that is materially different from the purposes for which it was originally collected or subsequently authorized, or (ii) disclose such personal data to a non-agent third party in a manner not specified in this Privacy Policy. Requests to opt out of such uses or disclosures of personal data should be done according to the process described in Section III. If the personal data is "sensitive" (such as information about health conditions, race, or ethnicity), the Life360 Companies will not process such sensitive personal data as described in (i) or (ii) above without your opt-in consent.

When the Life360 Companies receive personal information under the DPF and then transfer it to a third-party service provider acting as their agent on their behalf, the Life360 Companies remain liable under the DPF if both (a) the agent processes the information in a manner inconsistent with the DPF and (b) the Life360 Companies are responsible for the event giving rise to the damage.

If you are an EEA or UK or Swiss citizen and feel that the Life360 Companies are not abiding by the terms of this Privacy Policy, or are not in compliance with the DPF Principles, please contact the Life360 Companies at the contact information provided in Section IX (Contact Us If You Have Questions or Concerns), below.

If the Life360 Companies are unable to resolve your concerns, they have agreed, in compliance with DPF, to refer unresolved complaints concerning our handling of personal data received in reliance on the DPF to JAMS, an alternative dispute resolution provider based in the United States. If you do not receive timely acknowledgment of your DPF-related complaint from the Life30 Companies, or if they have not addressed your DPF-related complaint to your satisfaction, please visit https://www.jamsadr.com/DPF-Dispute-Resolution for more information or to file a complaint. The services of JAMS are provided at no cost to you.

If any request remains unresolved, you may contact the national data protection authority for your jurisdiction of residence. Under certain conditions, if your DPF complaint has not been resolved after raising it with the Life360 Companies or by following the JAMS procedure above, you may invoke binding arbitration to resolve complaints with respect to personal data received or transferred pursuant to the DPF, as described in Annex I of the DPF, available here: https://go.adr.org/dpfeufiling.html.
